Fire Rock Casino
Gallup, New Mexico
120' x 300' and 90' x 105'

From ground breaking to gaming in just over four months, the 46,000 square feet of Sprung structure creates a beautiful, modern look with breathtaking views of Church Rock and the surrounding mountains. The Nation also incorporated a beautiful graphics package of Native American icons that surrounds the buildings. A panoramic glazing wall with windows allows views overlooking the mountains from the casino's fine dining restaurant.

The facility offers bingo, dining, entertainment, poker/cards, and 422 slot machines. This casino has already exceeded its revenue projections by three fold and has added 200 more slot machines, according to Bob Winters, CEO. This is a truly state-of-the-art, first-class gaming facility.

Point Casino, Washington State

Located at the beautiful Port Gamble Bay, in Washington State's Puget Sound, The Point Casino is the latest state of the art tribal gaming facility to utilize Sprung structure technology.

The S'Klallam Tribe wanted to expand it's existing gaming facility and offer the very latest in gaming technology. The tribe liked the concept of accelerating the design and construction of the facility. Construction began on The Point Casino with a specially designed curved Sprung structure including an adjacent entertainment pavilion.

The entire project was erected from ground breaking to completion in just nine months. One of the attractive features of The new Point Casino is a showcase of S'Klallam art, displayed with specially designed graphic panels around the perimeter of the Sprung structures. In addition to over 500 games, the Point Casino has an upscale restaurant and two other casual dining choices, and an event center that can seat 760.

Mill Bay Casino, Manson, WA

The Coyote Cafe, open for breakfast, lunch and dinner and the Crosswinds Lounge offers a full service bar.

Located in beautiful Manson, Washington, Mill Bay Casino is just moments from majestic Lake Chelan!

"The streamlined erection process using a Sprung structure gave us the opportunity to complete this project and start earning revenue in about half the time it would have taken us with any other type of construction."
